this year's my career put even more of an emphasis on that as you have to balance playing ball in the arena and out in the streets on four distinctive streetball courts the streetball courts contribute to your initiative of winning over the city snatching it away from your rival shep owens who you're clearly better than anyway the harder stuff is usually the weekly challenges where you need to accumulate a certain amount of stats in park games to complete those 150 points in rec games for example but if you're super competitive you can pull these off all in all all of these quests can net you somewhere between 250 to 1 250 vc most of the time it doesn't seem like much but every little bit counts and if you do enough you'll see the growth plus these are every day and every week so you can collect nonstop
